

I oppose this petition as it is an unreasonable burden on manufacturers and would encourage tinkering with the designs of modern and complex equipment without proper (factory) training. If an amateur operator chooses to use commercial equipment, he should be bound by the maker's guarantees, etc. regarding "repairs". If one chooses to build one's own equipment, then one has free reign on "repairs". Thank you.